Freshmen, Juniors To Elect Officers

Elections will be held Wednesday, November 9, by both freshman and junior classes to fill office positions vacant in both classes.

Freshmen are preparing to launch the first political campaigns of their college career to elect leaders in all of the customary offices.

Juniors will name candidates to the positions of president, historian and assemblywoman.

Elections Committee met Tuesday night to map plans for the two coming campaigns, it was revealed by Pat Jones and Dick Mattox, co-chairmen of the committee.

Statements of all nominee's intentions to run are acceptable at the office of John E. Hocutt, dean of men, from noon tomorrow through noon, Wednesday, November 2.

Campaigning may legally begin tomorrow and last through election day. Ballots on election day will be cast between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p.m. All standard campaign rules apply during the pre-election period.

Reports circulating about the campus say that some eight freshman parties are now in the process of organization.

Program Offers Foreign Studies

Announcement has recently been made by the Department of State and the President's Board of Foreign Scholarships of the opening of competitions for United States government awards for graduate study in the United Kingdom, Belgium, Burma, the Netherlands, the Philippines, Greece, New Zealand, France, Italy, Iran and Norway for the academic year 1950-51.

Dr. Warner Moss, professor of government and adviser of the campus Fulbright Program, under which the scholarships are made available, may be contacted by interested applicants.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Dr. Moss in 319 Marshall-Wythe any afternoon Monday through Friday between 2 and 3 p.m.

This is the second year in which American graduate students will have the opportunity of competing for these awards which provide travel, tuition and maintenance for study abroad for one academic year.

Basic eligibility requirements are American citizenship, a college degree or its equivalent by the time the candidate takes up his award, and knowledge of the language of the country sufficiently to carry on his studies abroad.

France leads in the number of openings for award students with 220, followed closely by United Kingdom, 156. Other countries participating and their quotas include the Netherlands, 25; Belgium and Luxembourg, 22; Greece, 12.

WSCGA To Give Co-Eds Re-Test On Wednesday

WSCGA re-examination will be given Wednesday, October 26, in Washington 200 from 7 to 8 p.m. The lists of those women who must retake the test are posted in the dormitories. Students are reminded to bring their 25 cents fine with them tomorrow night. This examination is under the direction of Sarah Emos, vice-president of the WSCGA.

Editor Releases Staff Additions

Twenty-six people have been accepted for staff positions with the Flat Hat, it was revealed late today by Lou Bailey, editor of the publication.

The 26 additions to the regular staff, including freshmen, sophomores and juniors, were named to the news, sports, business and feature departments after a recent meeting of Flat Hat junior editors.

Jane Hale, Sara Wachtman and Bill Nary, all first year students, were accepted to feature staff positions.

Pottery Expert Opens New Shop

A leader in the field of ceramics, Palin Thorley, shortly will add his potters wheel to the crafts of this colonial cultural arts center.

Widely recognized as a designer, manufacturer and consultant, Thorley is establishing a pottery studio on Jamestown Road two miles from this restored colonial capital to continue the reproduction of authentic Williamsburg colonial ceramics and other work.

As a Licensed Manufacturer, the master potter has produced the Silver Resist pitcher, Nine-Finger Posey Holder and other items from two centuries ago in Colonial Williamsburg's Reproduction Program for a number of years. Through this program, Colonial Williamsburg, the organization carrying forward the restoration of 18th century Williamsburg, has

TB Control Division To Give Free X-Rays

Tuberculosis Control x-rays, offering free service to all students, began this morning aboard the mobile unit located between the infirmary and cafeteria and will continue through Friday of this week.

The Virginia State Department of Health is offering the chest x-ray service in an effort to curb the growth and spread of tuberculosis.

Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa, student organizations heading a drive designed to get every student out for an x-ray, are urging students to take advantage of the opportunity.

Hours are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. From 10 to 11 a.m. tomorrow maids and janitors will be accommodated and on Thursday the ground crew will be taken from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

The miniature x-rays, taken at the rate of two per minute, requires no shedding of clothing. Reshooting of any unsatisfactory x-rays will be made early in December. Officials made it clear that a retake definitely is not a sign that a person has tuberculosis.

The Colonial Echo has announced that student portrait photographs for the 1950 yearbook will be taken by appointment in the old Taliaferro dining hall beginning Monday, October 31.

Senior photographs will cost four dollars this year, while graduates, juniors, sophomores and freshmen will be charged three dollars for their pictures, according to Bud Bridges, Echo editor. Bridges disclosed that an additional charge of 50 cents will be made for the photograph necessary for each fraternity or sorority member. All fees are payable at the time the photographs are taken.

Schedules of appointment hours will be placed on the bulletin boards in all men's and women's dormitories this week. Day students rooming in town and fraternity lodge residents are requested to register at the telephone desk in Marshall-Wythe during the hours of 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily until November 6.

Students are urged to register on their dorm lists as early as possible since choice appointment hours will be meted out on a "first come, first serve" basis, Bridges said.

Campus Leaders See W & M Game At Wake Forest

Twelve William and Mary campus leaders and their dates were invited by Wake Forest to participate in that school's Homecoming festivities over the past week-end.

Activities, while at the Baptist institution, included attending the W&M-WF football game, introductions to Wake Forest officials, dinners and receptions.

The William and Mary delegation was led by John Dayton, president of the student body, accompanied by Carolyn Bell.

Other students attending were Hugh Haynie, vice-president to the student body, and Johnette Braun; Patricia Jones, chairman of Women's Honor Council, and Bob Benjamin; Dick Mattox, chairman of Men's Honor Council, and Gayle Ruffin; Marcia MacKenzie, chairman of Women's Judicial Committee, and James Kirkpatrick; and Bud Bridges, editor of the Colonial Echo and Joan Shaw.

Also making the trip were Yvonne Hickey, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, and Richard Rife; Harold Bernstein, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, and Wendy Phillips; George Hughes, co-captain of the football team, and Mrs. Hughes; Jack Cloud, co-captain of the football team, and Sally Bell; Bill Harper, vice-president of the junior class, and Billy-Jean Henritze; and Ed Pierce, head cheerleader, and Becky Roach.

WRNL Will Air W&M - UR Rally

William and Mary and the University of Richmond will launch week-end hostilities Thursday evening with a two-way radio pep rally over station WRNL, Richmond, an ABC outlet, 910 on the dial.

The broadcast will open at Richmond and swing back and forth between the two campuses, with Sammy Banks emceeing from this end in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The program goes on the air at 8 p.m. for a half hour.

Assembly Recommends Activity Fee Increase

Debate Council Members Appeal For Return To Former Status

By Jim Baker

The Inter-collegiate Debate Council won a partial, if not complete victory in its struggle for existence last week when representatives of the Council went before the Student Assembly to explain why their organization's funds should not be cut.

After an hour and a half of debate over the controversial issue, Dick Scofield, president of the senior class and member of the Senate, made the following motion: "That the Student Assembly strongly recommend to the Student Activities Fee Committee that the Debate Council receive two per cent of the Student Activities Fee Fund this year, and that next year and in subsequent years, the amount allocated to the Debate Council be reverted to four per cent as it has been in the past." The

Students Urged To Get Tickets

Students who have not already picked up their season ticket books for the William and Mary Theatre productions may do so Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 31, November 2 and 3, from 3:30 p.m. until the curtain time of The Little Foxes, the first play of this year, at Phi Beta Kappa box office.

These books, selling for $3.40, reserved, and $2.40, general admission, are one dollar less than buying each ticket separately at $1.10 for reserved and 85 cents for general admission. It is possible to reserve permanent seats for the total year but they must be for same night of each production. Tickets for The Little Foxes will also be on sale during the time stated above. Those who already have their season ticket books may turn them in at this time and obtain their tickets for The Little Foxes.

Chairman of ticket sales is Thomas Brummer. Members of his committee are Bruce Crowell, Doyl Levey and David Silverberg. Betsy Holtz is assistant to the director, Miss Althea Hunt, and Lois Short is chairman of the ushers.

Members of the stagecraft class will head the crew committees under the direction of Albert Haak, technician. George Belk is stage manager and his assistants are Lincoln King and Connie Coen. The other chairmen are as follows: stage carpenters: William Farley, Noel Blankinship, Urbane Ingram and Billie Pyott; properties: Janet Vaughan and Eugenia Jenkins; painting: Winston Jones and Marianna Brose; display: Margorie Otey; and David Friedman will head the stage crew. There have been about 11 other students who have joined these crews.

Hocutt Requests "Greek Week"

John E. Hocutt, dean of men, has suggested to the Interfraternity Council that the fraternities adopt "Greek Week" as a part of their initiation program this year.

In former years, several of the fraternities revived the program of "Hell Week" prior to initiation of pledges. This program, bordering on hazing, was frowned upon by the administration.

"Greek Week" is intended to be a constructive program in contrast with the procedure of previous years, which definitely was not constructive.

Since there is a state law, concerning colleges, which definitely outlaws "hazing" in any manner it was pointed out that it would be to the best interests of all concerned if this program were adopted.

Debate Council, like the three publications, will go into their surplus funds this year to meet the budget requirements for 1949-'50.

Arguments in favor of maintaining the Debate Council were:

1. To interest the students of the College in debating.

2. To spread the name of the college in "intellectual circles" throughout the nation. (Last year the debate team went as far west as Chicago and as far north as Boston, participating in over 130 debates and winning approximately 100 of them. Opponents included Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Duke, Georgia Tech, Miami, Washington and Lee, and Virginia.)

3. Since the Debate Council gets only four per cent of the Student Activities Fee Fund, why should they be cut off completely, or in half, when the Flat Hat, the Colonial Echo, and the Royalist all get much more than four per cent.

Arguments against maintaining the Debate Council were:

1. There is not enough interest in debating to warrant four per cent of the Student Activities Fee Fund.

2. Not enough students are effected by the Debate Council to warrant four per cent of the Fund.

The background of the issue at hand is as follows:

In 1935 an activities fee of eight dollars per student was inaugurated at the college. This fee remained the same until this year when it was boosted to nine dollars per student, the extra dollar per student to go to the college marching band this year. This fund is administered by the Student Activities committee, and certain percentages are used by the Flat Hat, the Colonial Echo, the Royalist, the Debate Council and See DEBATE COUNCIL page 10

Buses Will Take Students To UR

According to information received from the office of John E. Hocutt, dean of men, there will be special buses for those students desiring to attend the William and Mary-University of Richmond football game Saturday in Richmond.

The buses will depart from the Greyhound Terminal in Williamsburg at 11:30 a.m. All students wishing to take advantage of this special service must buy their bus tickets before 5 p.m., Friday, October 28.

Those buses which are filled to capacity will go directly to the stadium, while those which are only partially filled will stop at the Greyhound Terminal in Richmond. There will be no reduction in the price of bus tickets for this occasion.

A good showing of William and Mary students in Richmond for the game this coming Saturday is predicted.

Activity Fee

Every student at William and Mary pays a compulsory activity fee of nine dollars. This money is used to support the Flat Hat, the Colonial Echo, the Royalist, Debate Council and Student Government. The money is administered by the Student Activities Committee. The fee had been eight dollars per session since 1935, but last year the Board of Visitors approved a one dollar increase which was to go to the marching band this year.

What is the Student Activities Committee and where did it get its power? The Committee is not a creation of the Student Assembly, and the Assembly has no control over its policies. The Board of Visitors apparently set the Committee up in 1935 when the old system of voluntary activity fees was abolished. The Committee is composed of the three editors of the publications, the president of student body, the president of WSCGA, the president of the Inter-collegiate Debate Council, one member of the administration and three faculty members, one of whom is the financial advisor.

We are not condemning the work, past or present, of the Committee or any members of it, but we do condemn the fact that the students have no real control over the Committee. This is another example of the confusion existing in the present system of student government at William and Mary.

Two events have occurred recently that place the Student Activities Committee in the news. One is the proposal that the publications move into the old Taliaferro dining room and pay the College a service charge of $475 annually. The other is concerned with the amount the Debate Council should receive of the activity fund.

Last Tuesday night the Student Assembly recommended that the activity fee be increased to insure the Debate Council sufficient funds to carry on operations at its present level. There had been some question in the Student Activities Committee as to whether the present interest in debate justified its continued support by the activity fund, and, if so, to what amount. As has been pointed out, the Assembly could only act in an advisory capacity, and it voted overwhelmingly to recommend continued support of the Debate Council.

Fortunately the Student Activities Committee had a war-time surplus which has cushioned the heavy increase in publication costs. By the end of this year these surpluses will be nearly wiped out, and another increase will be necessary if the students are to continue to receive the same services. Under the present set-up the students really have no way of making their wishes known, or of exerting any real influence.

We think that a complete study should be made of the Student Activities Committee, and that the power of administering the fund should be placed entirely in the hands of the students, retaining only the faculty financial advisor. We are allowing a vital function of student control to fall from our hands by default. Such an apathetic attitude is too often seen in American political life.

The Student Activities Committee is one place where the student body could make its combined effort felt. The activity fee is strictly a student fee, supporting student services, and it should be administered by the students. It is our firm belief that we can only develop a strong student government at William and Mary if the students are interested enough to accept responsibility. Do you want an increase in the activity fee? Do you want the present services? Do you want a Student Activities Building in the immediate future? These questions aren't up to you, but they could be. It's time to call for a new shuffle and you'd better start shouting.

Virginia Votes

On November 8, Virginia voters will be faced with the choice of voting "for" or "against" changes in 12 sections of the State Constitution. The chief purpose of these amendments appears to be a repeal of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting, and to provide a substitute list of eligible voters.

Governor Tuck came out strongly last Saturday in favor of these amendments. Bipartisan opposition to the amendments is being led by the Virginia Right to Vote League, and there is speculation that the work of the League is forcing the Democratic organization into the field.

Two changes should be noted carefully. One would require annual registration, except for those voters who are on the 1902-03 list, and the renewal procedure is not defined, but must be "in such manner as may be provided by law." This procedure would therefore be defined by the General Assembly. The other important change would require would-be voters to "meet such tests as to literacy and such further requirements as the General Assembly may prescribe."

These two changes, together with the provision which sets the deadline for registration or renewal at 120 days before the primary or general election, would undoubtedly cut down the number of voters. In Virginia the number of adults voting in proportion to population is already one of the lowest in the country. Such changes as are now proposed would make possible a further restriction of the franchise, if any party in power sought to do so.

Such a surrender of political rights called for by the amendments should not be tolerated. The people of Virginia will have a fateful choice to make on November 8; let's hope the amendments are voted down.

Letters To The Editor

On ODK, Card Tricks, Elliot Lawrence

Dear Sir:

While riding the subway to an early class last week, I happened to come across a little item which seemed to indicate that the administration of this venerable institution intends to charge student activities rent for the use of their office space. These student activities include the redoubtable Flat Hat, the Echo and the Royalist.

The case for the latter two is not as strong as that of the Flat Hat when it comes to rent-free quarters although much can be said in their behalf.

A college paper may be a playground or a hobby for some, but certainly it is an eagerly sought source of information which makes the task of the college easier for it provides a medium of dissemination in that it eliminates a considerable amount of letter writing, telephoning, message running and perhaps some confusion.

Stripped of accomplishments in the realm of entertainment, experience and avocation for students as well as formal recognition by press associations, the Flat Hat is at least an impartial voice for the administration. As such an outlet, the paper is functionally if not nominally an integral part of the managing organization of the college.

Therefore, the paper should pay rent if the dean of men, women, college, the mimeograph room, the switchboard and the director of public relations do.

Furthermore, it is not the feeling of this writer that student activities fees should be poured into buildings already owned and paid for by the college.

Irate Fee Payer

Dear Sir:

This is in response to the letter from "A Footweary Foxrotter," which you published two weeks ago. Mr. Footweary gave no address, so the only alternative is to write a return letter.

The brunt of his letter was borne by Elliot Lawrence, whose band, according to reports, was enjoyed thoroughly by nearly everyone but Mr. Headweary. Personally, I think that Elliot Lawrence brought the best band that has been heard here for the past three years.

The music was as "soft, sweet and melodious" as any I've heard in Blow Gym, and I don't recall anywhere nearly as great a number of specialty numbers as there have been in the past. In fact he didn't play more than a dozen Friday night, and not many more Saturday night.

As to Mr. Lawrence's act of jumping up and down, some people—and a majority—must like it, or he wouldn't do it.

In conclusion, I suggest that Mr. Brainweary Foxchaser bring a tombstone to sit on when the next dance rolls around, or do as he claimed the musicians did—blow his brains out. Only use something more deadening than a trombone. Perhaps a small cannon—to be sure he doesn't miss.

Sincerely yours,

Hugh DeSamper

Dear Sir:

The professed ignorance of Messrs. Garrison and Crowell in their column of October 18, 1949, as to the eligibility requirements of Omicron Delta Kappa is indeed surprising. Had they bothered: (1) to attend the May 12, 1949 Convocation Joint (ODK-Mortarboard Tap Service); or, (2) to read the publication which carries their column (The Flat Hat, May 10, 1949); or (3) to ask any member of Omicron Delta Kappa, they could have obtained this information.

For the enlightenment of these gentlemen and others in like position, the qualifications for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa are character, leadership and service in campus life, scholarship, fellowship, and belief in democratic ideals.

Further, Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes and encourages achievement in the five phases of campus life: scholarship; athletics; social and religious affairs; publications; and speech, music, and dramatic arts.

Yours very truly,

Harvey Chappell

ETA President,

Omicron Delta Kappa

Dear Sir:

I, with approximately sixty other unfortunate students, have the dubious honor of placing my posterior at rest in Room 206 Marshall-Wythe during three days of every week at which time, after several adjustments to my spinal cord and a mere matter of shortening my arms to comply with the rigid requirements of my confines which purports to be my resting place for fifty-five minutes, I am ready for the lecture and anything incidental that might occur.

The pay off comes when unexpectedly, and on Monday morning at that, a voice sounds out, "Prepare for a written exercise." Then comes the scramble. There's a right to the jaw, a left jab in the stomach, a kick in the shins and finally to top it off—one of your close friends asking for a sheet of paper in order to show the instructor that he studied his lesson the night before . . .

As a remedy to this situation, I would suggest that those so-called seats in Room 206 of Marshall-Wythe be earmarked for the next bonfire to be held at a pep rally. It is evident that they are worthless and are probably being carried on the books at a nominal value. Only those who have the misfortune to be blessed with eight o'clock classes three mornings a week in Room 206 are able to appreciate the need for discarding these antiquated settees and providing our aching bodies with more comfortable seating facilities.

An Aching Student

Students at the Richmond Professional Institute of the College of William and Mary are already signing petitions to extend the Thanksgiving holiday over the week-end. Although this extension will mean two extra days in June, many feel that it is well worth it to have a three day holiday now. The secret of their obtaining the extension seems to lie in early action.

Colgate W. Darden, president of the University of Virginia, has announced plans to set up lower and upper divisions of the College of Arts and Sciences. This is to make provision for the younger and less experienced students who are intellectually less mature than their classmates. In other words the curve in one class is high and in the other low.

Fifteen members of the retail division of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce are offering three University of Miami students or faculty members $75 worth of merchandise. All you have to do to win is register. The winning names will be drawn from a hat at the Purdue pep rally. What could be easier?

The University of Richmond will again boast pleasure boats on its Westhampton Lake. This issue, left pending last year, has finally been approved. Which brings up the subject of what happened to the canoes on Lake Matoaka.

If you are looking for a novel way to raise money you might follow the example of the YWCA at the University of North Carolina. This ingenious group held an auction of a box supper with the name of the co-ed who accompanied the supper in each box. Bidding began at 50 cents a box and although the girl's name was kept secret until after the box was bought, a description and her home town was given.

Representatives to the Intramural league at the University of Akron voted unanimously to discontinue the intramural touch football. This action was due to the large number of injuries resulting from boys engaging in the activity.

Dear Sir:

It is my belief that at previous football games, many spectators have been subjected to card trick antics, and consequently have been unable to observe the much improved William and Mary band. It is true that the card tricks add greatly to the color of the football games for those not seated in the participating sections, but the diligent work and effort of Mr. Stewart and the band members rarely has an opportunity to display its achievements, and I think they should share in the mid game entertainment by having the spectator's attention.

This letter is not in any way intended to slam Bob Hendrich in his conscientious efforts which have my highest praise, but I only hope that some arrangements can be made in the future that will give ample consideration to both Mr. Stewart and Bob Hendrich. Holding my card at a forty five degree angle, I remain

Injun Signs

By Hugh DeSamper

Wha' happen? This well worn phrase constituted just about the lone thought in the collective minds of Tribe faithful last Saturday after they had seen and heard the mighty McCraymen mauled by the Demon Deacons—winner of one and loser of four up until that unfortunate day. The score, 55-28, was the highest rung up on a William and Mary football team since 1923, when Syracuse plastered a 61-3 ambush on the Redmen.

The Braves played well in the first quarter, which set the rooters to crowing happily, as this was an occurrence most scarce as far as the 1949 Redmen were concerned. Changing goals at the quarter on the long end of a 14-7 count, the Redmen looked like champions, particularly as they hadn't started off with the usual case of jitters when up against a strong opponent.

But, whoa — those other three quarters. The Deacons could do no wrong—they were the team they were supposed to be earlier in the season. The Wake Forest line flattened the Tribe line, and the backs scored at will—when end Red O'Quinn would let them. However, the rumor that the Deacon backs were matching coins in the huddle to decide whose turn it was is fallacious—they just took turns.

The W&M rooters in the stands were hard put to keep the Indians' name clean. It seems that as the game dragged on, people in the stands began to make uncomplimentary remarks about certain of the men on the field. Several fights broke out, with William and Maryans giving a good account of themselves—better than some others.

It has been a bad two weeks for the Tribe teams. The varsity footballers lost two, the frosh team was tied (an accomplishment, since it was Navy), and the harriers lost two in a row before winning. It was the one-two punch of Clyde Baker and Sam Lindsay that finally broke the flood of losses, leading their team to an 18-41 win over Quantico, Saturday.

Now for the big gripe of the week. Why did the administration release the story of Rube McCray's new contract the day after the flat. Hat came out? It was a big story, and we feel that they could have given it to us to publish first, or held it off a week and let it come out in all papers at the same time. But no, we read about it in the Richmond paper. Thank you, thank you, one and all—we appreciate the scoop!!!

Cloud May Return To Player Status For Richmond Tilt

By Hugh DeSamper

Jack Cloud, stellar fullback and co-captain of the Tribe, is expected to try out his knee in the game with Richmond this Saturday. The Flyer, hurt in the Michigan State game 10 days ago, missed the Wake Forest game, in which the team sorely missed his inspiring leadership and defensive play.

The husky battering-ram fullback, seemingly off to a slow start again this year, has been one of the outstanding men on the field in every game. His inability to tear off a quantity of the large gains for which he was so well-known can be laid to the fact that all opposing teams have set their defenses to first stop Cloud, and then worry about the rest of the W&M offense.

The return of the All-American plunger to the lineup will greatly strengthen the team as a unit, and raise the hopes of the school concerning the North Carolina game.

Warriors Absorb 55-28 Shellacking From Deacons Look To Saturday's Richmond Tilt To Improve Mark

Blow 14-7 Lead As Deacons Romp To Lopsided Score

William and Mary's football team suffered one of the worst humiliations any Big Green eleven has experienced in many a season as Wake Forest's Deamon Deacons turned a supposed Homecoming Day battle into a 55-28 Field Day rout at Groves Stadium Saturday.

Coach Douglas (Peanead) Walker's prodigies, (who were long overdue, losing four in a row, could do no wrong Saturday. The Deacons offense amassed a total net yardage of 500 yards, and more than half of this was the work of William (Nub) Smith, the fabulous sophomore from Fayetteville, N. C., who accounted for 265 yards by himself. The tackling and blocking by the Wake Forest line was fierce and precise.

Trying to hold up the prestige of the Tribe were Ed Magdziak, Vito Ragazzo, Buddy Lex, George Hughes and Frank O'Pella. Magdziak, replacing the injured Cloud at fullback, was the Indians most consistent ground gainer and scorer of the Tribes first touchdown. Lex continued his accurate Ragazzo matched the Deac's Red

Harriers Break Into Win Column With 18-41 Victory Over Quantico

The Tribe cross-country team, off to a slow start this fall, finally hit the win column last Saturday with a decisive 18-41 runaway over the Quantico Marines. The win gave the Redmen a 1-2 record for the season to date.

Led by aces Clyde Baker and Sam Lindsay, the Tribe placed six men in the top seven on the gruelling 4½ mile jaunt. Baker and Lindsay finished in a dead heat, touring the course in 26:01. Captain Henry Hart, Leatherneck ace, was third, followed by Indians Bullet Lawson, Bob Larsen, John Munger and and Bill Simonson. At this point the meet was as good as over.

Terps Crack Record

Last Wednesday, Maryland came to Williamsburg, and left with the Matoaka course record. The Terps are still the champs. Led by swift Bob Palmer, the Marylanders romped to a 21-41 win over the Indians. Palmer clipped over the 4½ mile run in 23:30, chopping a full minute and 40 seconds off the old record which was held by Baker.

Lindy Kehoe, also of Maryland, placed second, also cracking the old mark, and he was closely followed by Baker, the third man to eclipse the mark. Fourth man Sam Lindsay hit the old record on the nose. Bullet Lawson took the only other Indian place in the top ten, coming in ninth, while Bill Simonson and Hugh DeSamper completed the Tribe scoring in 12th and 13th places.

Coach Burkhardt was, nevertheless, pleased with the showing of the Tribe against the Terps, stating that they all gave their best, showing marked improvement over the week before. He felt that they did as well as could be expected, in holding them to over 20 points.

Freshmen Help

The help of freshmen Bob Larsen and John Munger was instrumental in the Quantico meet. The squad was minus the services of varsity members Bob Carter, out with a pulled leg ligament, and Hugh DeSamper, out with a wrenched knee. The fact that the team was meeting a non-conference team enabled the Tribe to allow the frosh to do their stuff.

Wednesday the Redmen hit the road again, taking on Richmond on the latter's course. Stocked with good distance men, the Spiders are expected to give the Indians a run for their money, having a good chance to take the meet. The Tribe will be out to even up their record.

Saturday will find the top team of the Carolinas coming to Williamsburg. N. C. State, a school that is building in all sports, will

William and Mary ranked 15th in the nation last year on won-lost record for football and basketball.

Indians Expected To Power Spiders In UNC Warmup

Coach Rube McCray's Indians travel to Richmond Saturday in hopes of a "breather" sandwiched between last week's disastrous Wake Forest encounter and next week's battle with the powerful North Carolina Tarheels. The Indians are favored to win by a greater margin than their 14-6 victory last year.

Paced by the running of Cloud, Weber, and Lewis, and the accurate aerials of Buddy Lex, McCray's men are expected to be too much for Coach Esleeck's Spiders. The passing combination of Lex-to-Ragazzo has developed into one of the country's top-notch aerial threats and are expected to keep Richmond's defensive backs in hot water all afternoon. Other proven receivers include Randy Davis, Joe Mark, George Hefflin, Harold Bates, and Ed Weber.

The Richmond attack, sparked by sophomore fullback Joe Purinai and tailback Tom (Cotton) Billingsley will encounter one of the toughest lines they will have to face all season. William & Mary's massive line, led by Creekmur, Hughes, McDowell, and Gehlman will face a veteran Spider forward-wall spearheaded by Wes Curtier, all-Virginia tackle, Marion Wilkosz, big guard, and rangy ends Doug McLachlin and Aubrey Rosser.

Followers of the Big Green are hoping that Coach Rube McCray will be able to substitute often and save his first-stringers for the buisng North Carolina game. Indian rooters are confident of an easy victory, but McCray is wary of Esleeck's Spiders.

Richmond's record is none too impressive, sporting two victories, over Davidson and Furman, while absorbing three setbacks. However, the win last Saturday was over the team that upset N. C. State. This may be an indication of Richmond's finding its strength which could be troublesome Saturday.

Ticket Information

Ticket sales for the North Carolina game will close at 4 p.m., October 31, according to William S. Gooch, business manager of athletics. He added that tickets to the Richmond game are on sale at present, and tickets to the N. C. State game will go on sale at 1 p.m., November 9.

Indian Of The Week

Clyde Baker, cross-country ace, is the unanimous choice of the Flat Hat sports staff as Indian Of The Week. Contributing to a very great extent to Saturday's rout of Quantico, Baker led the field of Indians and Leathernecks, tying for first place, for the only William and Mary varsity sport triumph in the past two weeks.

Having copped first place in the season's opener against Davidson, he placed third Wednesday against Maryland's powerful Southern Conference champions. This is the highest any man has placed against Maryland this year. He cracked the old course mark which he set last year, but unfortunately Palmer of Maryland was over a minute in front of him to carry off the record.

Captain of the harriers last year, Clyde has been high man on the squad for two years. However, he is being constantly pushed by Sam Lindsay who is definitely a man to be seriously reckoned with. In the Quantico meet he tied for first place with Baker.

In addition to being a cross-country star, Clyde also shines as a trackman in the spring. An extremely versatile runner, Clyde has at one time or another placed first in the 880, mile and two mile events. He achieved the distinction of lettering in his freshman year and since that time has been a constant bolsterer of the team. Last season Baker doubled consistently in the mile and two mile runs, picking up a creditable number of points.

Unfortunately for both the track and crosscountry squads, this will be Clyde's last season with the Tribe. A junior from Flushing, New York, Baker expects to enter Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall.

Harriers

be looking to knock off the Tribe, and assert its supremacy as the number two team in the conference. State has already beaten North Carolina, a strong contender, and Davidson, winners over the Tribe. The Davidson meet was won by a top-heavy score.

Coach Burkhart asserted that his men will be out to show both teams that they have been in a battle, and added that anything can happen in cross-country.

O'Quinn by scoring three times to bring his total to eight for the season, and did a bang up job on de-pitching by completing 15 of 24 tosses for 170 yards and two touchdowns. O'Pella and Hughes performed well against the Deacon offensive attack.

When the Indians marched 87 yards in eight plays to match the Deacon's initial score and then came back and go ahead 14-7, it appeared as though a real battle were brewing, but in the second and third periods, the "see-saw" battle saw Wake Forest score six times while the Tribe didn't even see the goal line.

Buddy Lex set up the first Indian score with a 56-yard gallop around left end to put the ball on the 13-yard line. Magdziak then picked up eight, and scored by driving over left guard from one yard out. Lex tied the score at 7-7 by making the first of his four conversions. The Braves took the lead two minutes later when Lou Creekmur jarred the ball out of quarterback Blackerby's hand, and George Hughes recovered on the Deac's 10. Lex fired a bullet pass to Ragazzo in the end zone for the tally.

Nub Starts Rolling

But in the second period, William (Nub) Smith started rolling. He set up the Deacon's second score when he broke loose for 58 yards and then passed to O'Quinn for the TD. Smith staged number three with a 74 yard zig-zaging run ending on the three. Lex's blocked kick gave the Deacon's a 27-14 half time advantage.

In the third quarter, O'Quinn scored twice on passes and Bill Miller bucked over for a six pointer to put Wake Forest safely ahead 48-14.

With the game in a hopeless condition, the Tribe added two touchdowns on passes from Lex and Yewic to Ragazzo. Deacon Smith sandwiched a touchdown between these with a 44-yard jaunt to make it 55-28.

William and Mary has not lost a football game to a Virginia school since 1938, just before Carl Voyles took over as head coach here.

Swim Organization Adds New Members

Avery Leavitt, president of the swimming club, has announced the acceptance of 10 new members. The additional mermaids are Susie Hall, Janice Arnette, Gaye Smith, Emmy Ketterson, Greta Clark, Betsy Booth, Dorcas Strong, Jean Vester, Nancy Clextion and Marty Schilte.

Remaining from last year's roster are Hunter de Murguiondo, secretary, and Katherine Lowe, Phyl Readon, Pat Hitchcock and Katherine Grey.

Ballroom Dancers To Form Group

A group of men and women students interested in ballroom dancing is being re-organized this year by Miss Sophie Saunders. All students who wish to study ballroom dancing will meet Thursday, October 27, in Washington 100 at 5 p.m. If there is enough interest shown at this meeting the first class will be held that evening at 7 p.m. in Great Hall.

Sigma Rho Tops Pi KA, 6-0, In Crucial Intramural Touchball Game

Independent Loop Shows Matched Teams

The Independent Touch Football League played five games last week. Monday, the Fristoe Flops defeated the Chicken Clippers 14-6. For the winners, Fots Stevens passed to Frank Bennett for the first score, and Stevens tossed a pass to Phil Dulaney for the extra point. Stevens ran across for the winning TD, and also scored the extra point on an end run.

The Cavaliers swamped the Chicken Clippers 26-2 in the first game Wednesday. Leo Williams passed to Johnny Kozack for two tallies, and he tossed one to Joe Burke for another. The last score came on a thrilling play. Williams intercepted a Chicken Clipper pass and lateraled to Lionel Teitler, who ran over for a TD.

In the next game the Fristoe Flops squeezed past the Flying 8 for a close 14-13 victory. Ned Burke's pass to Phil Dulaney for the extra point after the second score provided the margin of victory for the Fristoe Flops.

Larkin, Garrison Gain Third Round

With the intramural tennis tournament heading into the third round the two men given the best chance for the title—freshman George Larkin and senior Stan Garrison—find themselves in the third round.

A Garrison defeated Tom Owen, Phi Tau, 6-0, 6-2 and next will face either Jim Devitt or Jim Alderson of SAE.

Devitt had a tough 6-4, 15-17, 6-4 battle before he finally beat Jim Kiley, Kappa Sig, in the first round.

Larkin is in the third round of play without having lifted a racket, receiving a first round pass and a forfeit in the second. He will face Pat Massaro of Sigma Rho in the third round.

In other top battles Roy Slezak, SAE, faces Tex Hopkins, and Ken Nellis, Pi KA, takes on the winner of the Ollie Amon-Dick Forrest match.

In a bitterly fought game which many believe has already decided the 1949 fraternity touch football champion, Sigma Rho defeated the defending champions of Pi KA, 6-0, last Monday. Showing a consistent ability to gain ground and an impenetrable defense, Sigma Rho not only maintained their undefeated and unscored-upon record but labeled themselves as the team to beat in the coming weeks.

Randy Mallory was responsible for the game's only score as he intercepted a pass thrown by Bill Martin and ran 40 yards to the three yard line. On the next play Bill Stone took a basketball pass from tailback Paul Webb for the touchdown.

SAE then played dangerous Sigma Pi on Tuesday, and though looking ragged in spots and lacking the scoring punch of previous SAE teams, managed to grab a 13 to 0 victory. On Friday they met with unexpected resistance from a stubborn Theta Delt team before downing them for their third victory, 12 to 7. It was late in the first half that Joe Giordano, the player-coach of SAE hit end Bill Watson in the end zone for the game's first score. The kickoff after the first half netted three yards and gave Theta Delt the ball on the three yard line of SAE. Theta Delt scored two plays later, and the game remained deadlocked until late in the game when Clarence Bass pulled down a touchdown pass from Giordano to give SAE the victory.

Pi KA bounced back from Monday's defeat to roll over Phi Tau 33-14, scoring three times in the first five minutes. Led by Bill Martin and Harry Robison they showed a smooth-rolling offense which was sadly lacking against Sigma Rho. Harry Robison who came back into this game after being taken out with a bad cut under one eye is being called by many the greatest player ever to perform in intra-mural football at William and Mary. Pi KA did it again on Friday with Martin teaming up with Robison and Doug Welland to roll over Kappa Sig 26 to 6.

In the week's other games Sigma Rho smothered Phi Alpha 27 to 0 and Sigma Pi beat Lambda Chi 14-0. Monday on a muddy field and in a light rain Theta Delt and Phi Tau fought to a 6-6 tie and KA edged out a win over Kappa Sig 6-2. On Friday, fast slipping Lambda Chi was handed a stunning defeat by Phi Tau 33-7 and on Wednesday Theta Delt was again stopped from winning its first game by a last quarter touchdown of Sigma Pi. The score of this game was 12-7.

Women's 'Murals Change Leagues

Miss Inez L. Smith, acting faculty head of women's intramurals, has announced an important change in the scoring of intramurals. Due to the fact that the women students have 15 organizations competing in intramurals this year, the teams have been divided into three leagues of five teams each instead of the previous two leagues with six teams each. This necessitated a change in determining the winners.

Whenever this organizational plan is used, the method of determining team standings will be as follows: each league will have a first and second place winner to receive 100 and 80 points respectively. The other teams in the league will receive 60 points for participation. No final winner will be determined.

Squaws And Whaley Fight To 1-1 Tie

Rebounding from a pre-season 1-0 defeat to Matthew Whaley High School, the W&M hockey team fought the Whaleyites to a 1-1 tie last Wednesday on the home field.

Gene Allinson, freshman right inner, pushed the ball into the Whaley cage late in the scoreless first period, but the point was called back due to fouling in the striking circle.

In the second half of the slow-moving contest, Tink Bell scored the W&M counter from the center halfback position, while Joan Vaughan, Whaley center forward, followed through with a successful drive-goal for the opposition.

Freshman Ginny Bell, right halfback, acted as captain for the game. The Squaws next take on the Westhampton team on October 29 at Westhampton.

Women's Wiles

By Fran Jewell

This is certainly proving to be a busy season as far as women's intramurals are concerned, and the pace was even quickened yesterday when ping pong jumped into the running, and practices for intramural hockey began. The tennis matches are still being battled out despite bad weather and forfeits, but as yet the competition is wide open and there are no close contenders for the lead. Theta, Pi Phi, Kappa, and Town Girls seem to have the strongest teams at the moment and are providing the most interest when they play.

Hockey

The varsity hockey team has a big weekend ahead of it October 29. The squad is journeying to Westhampton where it will play Saturday morning, and then on to Richmond in the afternoon to take in the William & Mary-University of Richmond game. The team of thirty Squaws has more spirit and enthusiasm than has been seen hereabouts in many a moon. Let's try to equal that spirit with our support when they play their next home game on November 12. The Navy managed to send up a sizeable 'representation' to view the Squaws' game last Wednesday, and we hope we don't let them get ahead of us. Come on girls, let's get out there and cheer our teams to victory!

There are some unsung heroines of the women's sports world here at William and Mary, and they are the intramural representatives. These girls spend untold hours contacting players, organizing ing teams, making up schedules, and supervising the games. If you are a member of a team and are feeling low because your name doesn't make the Flat Hat every week, stop a moment and think about your intramural representative. She's the girl with the inferiority complex.

Miss Althea Hunt Will Speak At Chapel

Miss Althea Hunt, associate professor of fine arts, will speak at tomorrow evening's chapel service on The Pursuit of Happiness.

Reverend Churchill G. Gibson of St. James Church in Richmond spoke to the students at last week's service on the effect the absence of the church would have upon the life of the individual and the community. He especially emphasized the fact that without religion, democracy would be merely a cold unworkable theory.

After the chapel service, a reception was held for Reverend Gibson in the east living room of Barrett.

Scabbard And Blade Day To Be Observed With Retreat Ceremony On October 29

National Scabbard and Blade Day, October 27, will be observed locally with a formal retreat ceremony followed by a banquet at Thieme's dining room, Edward Brown, president of the military organization, disclosed recently.

Scabbard and Blade Day is observed throughout the 95 chapters of the organization across the nation. It calls for a rededication to the principles of the organization.

Brown announced that the retreat ceremony will begin at 4:30 p.m. in front of Marshall-Wythe and will be on a small scale.

Club Postpones Football Movies

The Varsity Club's campus showings of movies taken at William and Mary away games have been postponed. The movies of the Pittsburgh game, which were to be shown last Wednesday night, were cancelled at the last minute.

George Hughes, president of the club, stated, "Because of circumstances which we cannot control, the campus football movies have been postponed indefinitely. We are still working on the project, however."

The Varsity Club is holding its regular meeting tonight. The movie plans will again be discussed at meeting.

Scarab Society Announces New Officers; Saunders Speaks On Evolution Of Dance

Winston Jones, president; Virginia McWilliams, vice-president; Larry Passow, secretary; and Bill Roberts, treasurer, were announced as new officers of the Scarab Society following its first meeting Thursday night.

The club is for those students interested in any of the fine arts.

First on the program was Miss Sophia Saunders, instructor of physical education, who gave a short talk explaining the evolution of the dance, the oldest of the arts, from its beginning with apes rhythmically prancing around a pole to the tense, freely expressive modern dance of today, exemplified by such well-known performers as Isadora Duncan. Miss Saunders illustrated each period of dance development with a short dance figure.

Law To Exempt Day Commuters From Paying Toll

Norfolk area commuters can put their money back in their respective pockets, thanks to a recent move by the Commonwealth.

The state, now that it has taken over the bridges and ferries, is going to enforce an old legal statute which exempts regularly commuting students from paying tolls when going directly to and from school.

Anyone eligible to take advantage of this money-saving development is asked to see first Dean J. Wilfred Lambert for an identification card which then has to be signed by Dr. John E. Pomfret, president of the college.

This exemption applies both to students and their cars but must be used only when going directly to and from school on school days. Maximum penalty for misuse of the pass is fifty dollars.

Club Sponsors Museum Excursion

Embarking upon its first major project of the year, the Clayton Grimes Biological Club visited the Mariners Museum, last Saturday, located in East Morrison on the outskirts of Newport News. In charge of the excursion was Waverly Cole, president of the club.

Accompanying the group of a dozen or more biological enthusiasts were Dr. Bernice Speese and Dr. Sohns of the biology staff. The group assembled at the College Corner at 1 p.m. and were taken to their destination by private automobiles.

The Mariners Museum was established largely through the aid and generosity of the founders of the Newport News Shipyard. Since its beginning it has steadily grown through gifts and contributions until today it ranks as one of the foremost museums on ancient maritime collections in the country.

Of special interest to most of the students were the old firearms and vessel fragments dating back to the American Revolution.

Law Exams To Be Given

Law school examinations will be administered by the Educational Testing Service on Saturday, November 12, at the University of Richmond. Application blanks must be sent with the fee of ten dollars to the Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, no later than November 2.

Exhibits ranged from models of ancient Viking vessels to scale designs of the Queen Elizabeth and other ships of great note today.

Major Ed Wall, Harvard, '40 -Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Newark, N. J., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public Latin high school in 1936, entered Harvard the same year, where he majored in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a variety of jobs from bouncer to baby sitter, received his AB degree in 1940.

He enrolled in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second Lieutenant.

Assigned to anti-sub patrol duty, he flew B-25's and B-17's before going overseas in 1944, where he flew 30 missions as a B-24 pilot. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war for 3 months.

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his Regular commission. Then he returned to Harvard under the Air Force college training program, receiving his LLB degree in 1949.

Now, he is confident about his future and security. As a pilot and legal officer of Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., Major Ed Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive ... with a challenging career.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training as an Aviation Cadet. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train at Officer Candidate School for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Tidewater Alumni To Give Dance At Virginia Beach Officers' Club

Final plans for a big Christmas dance to be held December 27, 1949 at the Fort Story Officers' Club at Virginia Beach are well under way, it was announced yesterday by Bill Lee and Bill Nixon, co-chairmen of the Tidewater Student-Alumni Association.

Further plans and details will be worked out Thursday, October 27, when the Association holds its first general meeting of the year at 7 p.m. in Barrett Living Room.

The purpose of the meeting Thursday will be three-fold. First, final arrangements for the Christmas dance have to be approved at a general meeting of the Association. Preliminary plans were made within the executive council of the organization.

Secondly, potential members will be permitted to join. "Anyone living in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton, Suffolk or in the general Tidewater area and who is interested in becoming a member, is invited to attend the meeting Thursday night," stated Lee when asked about the geographical limits of Tidewater.

Amateur Radio Club Will Relay Messages

Stepping up the power of its transmitter to 150 watts and adding a variable-frequency oscillator are recent improvements of the Amateur Radio Club, located in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

The Club is equipped to send free messages for students to any point in the U. S., its territories, Canada and Mexico. Already over 100 messages have been sent.

Classes in elements of radio theory and Morse code are offered every Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Washington 204. The Club has 17 members.

Yarborough Leads Symphonic Series

Inaugurating a series that will continue for at least 13 weeks, the Richmond Philharmonic Orchestra last Sunday night rendered a half-hour performance over radio station WRVA, Richmond, a Columbia Broadcasting System affiliate. The orchestra, composed of advanced students of Richmond Professional Institute of the College of William and Mary and other musicians, is conducted by William Yarborough, distinguished American musician.

Now a professor at RPI, Yarborough was the first permanent conductor of the American Symphony Orchestra in Paris and has been guest conductor of many orchestras in America. During the summers of 1946 and 1948 he was guest conductor of both orchestra and chorus at the Berkshire Music Festival in Tanglewood, Massachusetts.

The broadcast, aired from 10:30 to 11 p.m. each Sunday, is preceded with a concert before a live audience in the WRVA Theater.

Featuring the premiere performance of the orchestra was the guest appearance of Dr. Henry Levinger, foreign editor of Music

Red Cross Sponsors Student Bloodmobile; Donations Important

Stevie Bartlett, chairman of the college unit of the American Red Cross, announced today that plans are underway to sponsor a day for the Bloodmobile for students only.

All students over 21 years of age and those under 21 who obtain written permission from their parents may join in the donor program, Stevie said.

Blood donated is processed and held available for those needing it here in James City County, now affiliated with the National Blood Program. Any student, therefore, under a doctor's care within the county, may be given transfusions free of charge rather than for the customary fee of 25 dollars or more.

A definite date will be set for the Bloodmobile appearance and announced later. Meanwhile, students desiring more detailed information are asked to contact Stevie or Larry Carter or any fraternity or sorority.

Admission to all broadcasts has been announced as free.

Literary Society Initiates Women

Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary literary society, held a formal initiation and reception Wednesday evening, October 19, for the newly accepted members of the organization.

Jeanette Keimling, president, announced the new members as Mary-Jo Finn, Fran Jewell, Pattie Lambert, Sally Ross, Shirley Spain and Jane Waters. The new presiding officers include Pat Stringham, vice-president; Virginia Northcutt, secretary; and Martha Wood, treasurer.

Dr. Glenwood Clark, associate professor of English and sponsor for the group, spoke informally on the subject of writing.

a small percentage by the Student Government and the Contingent Fund.

This year the Flat Hat received 20%; the Colonial Echo, 65%; the Royalist, nine per cent; Student Government, two per cent; and the Contingent Fund, two per cent.

Costs of publication have been steadily rising while the amount of money coming in ($9.00 per student this year), remains the same. This year the Colonial Echo estimated that a 10 per cent increase would be needed to publish the yearbook.

This brought to light the question with the Colonial Echo in need of an increase in money, should the Debate Council continue to receive four per cent of the Student Activities Fee Fund, should they be cut to two per cent, or should they be cut off entirely?

Representatives of the Debate Council stated that on two per cent they could only afford to debate with schools in Virginia and it would be a financial struggle to do even that. "What it all boils down to," commented Joe Callaway of the Debate Council, "is in order to maintain a debate team of the caliber of last year's team, we need four per cent of the Student Activities Fee Fund on which to operate. Without it the Debate Council is doomed."

Representatives from the Debate Council present at last week's meeting were Jack Buchheit, Joe Callaway, Dick Hutcheson, Dick Mattox, Bob Myers, Bill Nixon and Bruce Robinson.

Other new business taken care of at the Assembly meeting was a motion made and carried to notify Herman R. Field, director of division of services and supplies, of unsafe fire conditions

E. Thomas McGuire Wins Republican Nomination For Lieutenant Governor To Set Virginia Precedent

On last August 2 the Old Dominion set a precedent: it nominated E. Thomas McGuire as the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in the first Virginia state wide primary ever held by that party. The Republican voters gave Mr. McGuire a majority vote in seventy-five of the one hundred and twenty-seven state political units; he won seven of the nine congressional districts. All of which is of especial interest to the William and Mary family, for this candidate is one of her students—a law school man who has studied here since June, '48, and who is now working for his B. C. L.

It was over a cup of coffee in a local restaurant that alumnus' governmentally minded scholar said, "I've been in politics ever since I was twelve years old." As a boy he often helped in distributing posters or circulating petitions. Maybe it's because of his long association with the "great game" that he is, according to himself, a conservative, politically as well as socially.

When asked why he was striving for Virginia's second highest position, he answered, in true political form, "The Democratic party has never put forward a program which I could subscribe to, so in order to present to the electorate of Virginia a program different from the "me-too-ism" of certain anti-poll tax Democrats who are controlling the Republican party in Virginia, I entered the race for lieutenant governor." In this campaign E. Thomas McGuire has "received no support from the Republican state central committee," and he refers to the party leaders as "pseudo-ists" because "they talk but do nothing." His platform is chiefly planked with the "principle of free popular government based upon home rule and individual liberty."

McGuire is a considerably candid office seeker with an imposing appearance: hazel eyes, black hair tinged along the sides with gray, a rather fair complexion, and a well-trimmed mustache. McGuire is married and his wife lives in Petersburg.

To learn of his interests and idiosyncracies, his interviewer asked about the use of his spare time. "Spare time!" he exclaimed. "Do you know what I'm doing?" E. Thomas McGuire is carrying a full load at William and Mary, is working as a full time employee for the Citizen's Home Insurance Co., and, on top of that, running on the Republican ticket for lieutenant governor of Virginia. Evidently he knows not the meaning of the term.
